

The Daily Courant.

Friday, January 29. 1703.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Jan. 27.

Naples, Dec. 26.

S Ignior Patrizio, the Pope's Nuncio, is constituted by a particular Brief from his Holiness Administrator of the Spiritual and Temporal Affairs of the Archbishoprick of Naples; but the Collation of Benefices remains in the Holy See. Don Gennaro d'Auria, Canon of the Cathedral of this City, is elected Vicar-General by the Chapter, Sede vacante. The Council has sent some Officers with a Commission to enquire into, and dispose of the Lands and other Estate of the Marquess del Vasto, which are confiscated. Two Companies of Cavalry were sent some time ago to Capua, and the Garrisons of most other Places are reinforc'd. The Viceroy's Son has lifted himself in a Company of Foot as a private Centinel.

Rome, Jan. 2. An Extraordinary Congregation was held lately about reforming the Calendar, and 'tis believ'd that Affair will be brought to Perfection in a short Time.

Venice, Jan. 6. On the 1st of this Month, and the 2 following Days, the Holy Sacrament was expos'd in the Church of St. Mark, by Order of the Senate, to beg of God a happy Year, and the Re-establishment of Peace among the Christian Princes. The Doge went thither accompany'd by the Emperor's Ambassador, and followed by the Signory.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 29.

Rome, Jan. 6. The great Rains that began within these few days, have made the Tiber overflow the Lower Part of this City again, which has done more damage than before; a certain Abbot walking along the Streets, happen'd to slip into a hole which was open'd to cleanse a Common-Shore, where the Water ran with so strong a Current, that he was hurried under-ground and drown'd before any body could get to his Assistance. The Duke d'Uzeda Ambassador of Spain, is nominated by the King, his Master, President of the Council of Castile; but the Duke scruples to accept of it, expecting to have been made Viceroy of Naples, when his Character of Ambassador to this Court ceas'd; as has been the general Custom. On Monday last the Pope was at Chappel in the Vatican, to solemnize the New-Year's Day; and receiv'd the usual Compliments on that Occasion. He has caus'd an Ordonnance to be publish'd, to forbid all Debauchery, the Diversions of the Carnival, and Acting of Comedies, intending that the time should be better employ'd in the Devotions that are appointed, to beg of Heaven to restore Peace to Christendom.

From the Paris Gazette a la Main, Jan. 26.

Private Letters from Madrid tell us, that they continue to draw up the Process against the Amirante of Castile with all the rigour that can be, especially since the Deposition made by the Marquess d'Alcanizes, who says, that the Admiral, his Uncle, at an Entertainment which he gave to the Prince of Darmstadt, and to the Emperor's Ambassador at Lisbon, pledg'd a Health to Charles the 3d of Austria, King of Spain. These Letters add, That his Catholick Majesty has given the Prince of Vaudemont, Governour of Milan, a Pension of 30000 Livres, out of the Estate of the Amirante; And that it was advis'd from Lisbon, that the Difference that happen'd between the Ministers of the Court of Portugal, and the Ambassador of Spain, about the conveying away of a certain Spaniard by that Ambassador, is accommodated by the interposition of Monsieur de Rouille, Ambassador of France.

We have Advice that the Marshal de Villars, who arriv'd at Metz on the 18th instant, set out for Strasburg the day after. On the 18th, the Marquess d'Uxelles receiv'd the News at Strasburg that the King had promoted him to the Dignity of a Marshal of France; and on the 22d he set out from thence to come to Court and return Thanks to his Majesty for the Honour conferr'd on him, and take the usual Oath of a Marshal. The Marshal de Tallard took that Oath on the 18th; The Marshal de Rosen on the 20th, and the Marshal de Montrevel on the 21st, in Presence of the King at Versailles. They write from Milan, that the Prince of Vaudemont has had a Fit of an Apoplexy. The King has made some Alterations in the Troops of the Guards du Corps, several of the Principal Officers having quitted that Service, on account of their Age and Infirmities; his Majesty has rewarded them all with Pensions, and promoted their Subalterns. 'Tis said the Count de Thesse will certainly be made Captain of the Guards du Corps in the room of the late Marshal de Lorge.
